AUCTION SALES.

ELIGIBLE LAND SPECULATION AT SOUTH BOSTON.

THE subscriber calls the attention of the public to one of the most desirable opportunities for purchase and improvement of Real Estate in the vicinity of Boston, looking to the future increase of wealth and population in that flourishing section of country, which can be offered. It consists of lots of 100 feet, rear the House of Industry, and adjoining City Gardens—located within the City lot, running from Fourth street, together to the rear of the lot, and on the flats 1600 feet, with from 12 to 16 feet of water at ebb and high tides, and chiefly clay bottom; neither on sand flats, 243 feet; easterly on O street, running to Fourth street, 133 feet; southerly on Fourth street, 243 feet, to the southeast corner of the City Garden fence, as surveyed by John G. Hales, whose plan may be seen at Briggs's Reading Room, in Willis's Lane, and at the hotel near the lot.

This plan contains 430,863 square feet of upland and 392,043 square feet of flats—1600 feet square feet of upland, 2000 feet each 50 feet wide, and Broadway, 50 feet wide, and both streets are laid out on the plan to run through the City Farm, when the City Authorities consider it expedient. In the mean time, said streets can be improved by the abutters—50 feet for carriage-ways and 10 feet on each side of the 50 feet streets, and 20 feet each side Broadway for fancy gardens. Said flats is now erected a wharf, 149 feet long.

Lots No 1 and 2.—On lot No 1 is a dwelling house, with a workshop, barn, and 10,768 feet of land enclosed.

Lot No 2, consisting of clay, sand, loam and gravel from the beach up to First street—125,343 square feet, which may be taken off 15 feet, and leaves the land 3 feet above high water-mark. The above land and flats may be sold together—separate from the following, viz—

No 3.—Lot No 3 is bounded northerly on First street—southerly on Second street—containing 60,633 feet—10 feet suitable for house lots, and the remainder a rich soil for gardens, ditched and well watered.

No 4.—Lot No 4, bounded northerly on Second street—southerly on Third street—of the same dimensions—contains a pond of about 400 feet surface, the ice from which has for many supplied an ice house.

No 5.—Lot No 5 bounded northerly on Third street, and southerly on Broadway—of the same dimensions.

No 6.—Lot No 6, bounded northerly on Broadway, and southerly on Fourth street, of the same dimensions, and will admit of 20 eligible house lots of 3000 feet each, with passage ways.

This whole location embraces one of the first views particularly in summer, in the vicinity of Boston, from which is distant one hour's easy walk from State street, with conveyances by half hourly stages to the Hotel near the premises.

The prospect commands a full view of the harbor on the north, the bays of Dorchester and Quincy on the south, the castle and islands, the waters between Cape Ann and Cape Cod, and the city of Boston and its environs.

The whole is offered for sale at a reasonable rate and on liberal terms, or one-half or two thirds may be disposed of to a company in shares, to make improvements, a part to be paid for, and the remainder put into their hands to manage. If not disposed of in this way, the whole or part of the premises may be sold at auction, in lots, to suit purchasers, on Saturday, the 25th inst, at 4 o'clock, P. M. For terms, &c., apply to ELEAZER HOMER, Agent, Pension Office, State House, June 2, copist.

west.—The most deplorable accounts have been received from almost all parts of the north-west coast, especially Sigo and Donegal, of the dreadful state of distress, the absolutely starving condition, of the peasantry.

LIVERPOOL COTTON MARKET. May 14.—We continue to have a very languid market and meagre sales. American we quote 1d. more yesterday, and long staple are also nominally higher. Exporters have taken 500 bales of American. The import is 11,200 bales, namely 10,438 from the United States, and 383 from Barbadoes, and the sales are 5,720, namely 300 San Island cotton, which are sustained do, to 10d.—14d. Ispaham, 1d.—16d. Albstas, 9 to 12d.—20d. Orléans, of 10d.—14d.—900 Bremen, 12 to 14d.

Monday.—We have had a quiet cotton market to-day—sales are estimated from 12 to 150 bales at yesterday's prices, chiefly American, from 10 to 11d.

SAILLS AT HAVRE. May 9th.—255 bales Louisiana cotton, at 13d. 1/2—150 do Florida, at 14d.—10th, 225 bales cotton—11th, 600 bales Louisiana cotton, at 13d a 15d.—150 Middle, 157d.—100 Florida at 13d 50—70 Geogia a 15d.—14d. Ispaham, 1d.—16d. Albstas, 9 to 12d.—20d. Orléans, of 10d.—14d.—900 Bremen, 12 to 14d.

Gen. Houston.—There seems to be some foundation for the rumor that measures are in progress for removing Gen. Houston from the command of the Texan army, and placing Gen. Hamilton, of South Carolina, at its head. Gen. Houston's "unaccountable retreat" from the Colorado, and then from the Brasos, is brought up against him; and it is also said that but for the determination of his men to retreat no farther, he would have kept on to the Sabine. It is said there was no necessity for his retreating from the Colorado, and much less from the Brasos. Although he behaved bravely in the great engagement, the principal credit of that action is claimed for the Secretary at War, Mr. Rush, by whom the rout and pursuit was conducted, and who, on Gen. Houston's ordering a halt, when the enemy began their retreat, ordered the pursuit—leading in a measure himself. Houston says he ordered a halt for the purpose of forming and protecting their camp, which he conceived in danger from the enemy's reinforcements expected (but which had arrived previous to the battle) under Gen. Cos. Gen. H. further says that he was justifiable in retreating from the Colorado and Brasos—that although it was reported he had from 1200 to 2000 men, yet his whole effective force never exceeded 500 men at those places—when the enemy was reported to have 2000 men.

Texas.—The New Orleans Bee of the 26th ult. says—

"News arrived in town yesterday from Galveston, stating that the Texian government had effected a negotiation or treaty with Santa Anna, as the President General of Mexico. We have not ascertained the particulars of this treaty; but suppose it is to recognize Texas an independent nation."

The Bee of the 27th contains Gen. Houston's official account of the battle of the 21st April. It gives, however, no new information.

The same paper states that the ambassador of the Texans, who was sent to the Mexican army after the battle of San Jacinto, had returned, having left the division under Felasola at the Colorado on the 8th ult. Felasola said he should recognize Santa Anna as the President of Mexico, and as such obey his orders to withdraw his troops. He said he had no doubt but the Mexican Congress would acknowledge the independence of Texas—confessed the campaign had resulted in disgrace to the Mexicans—and acknowledged that the massacre of Col. Fanning's men was unjustifiable, and would meet the just indignation of the civilized world.

The Murder of Ellen Jewett is yet involved in impenetrable mystery. A thousand rumors are afloat, and among them the following:—

"Our readers will recollect that some time since we gave an account of the suicide of Mr Thomas B. Cushing, a clerk in the employ of Bailey, Keeler & Reisen, and who sustained an excellent character, and had the entire confidence of his employers. It has been ascertained that he was at Mrs Townsend's on the night of the murder.—It is also ascertained that he kept company with the Miss Stevens (mentioned in Mrs Townsend's testimony on the trial) the night before she died so suddenly, at Mrs Galagher's, which was the night previous to his own suicide. Miss Stevens was a 'boarder' at Mrs Townsend's at the time of the murder, and left when that establishment was broken up. Her death was represented to have been occasioned by the bursting of a blood vessel; but there are circumstances which induce a belief that she died by poison."

The New York Herald states that ever since the verdict of the jury, Robinson has been considered in a dangerous state—he is worn out, bodily and mentally, and failed immediately with the termination of the excitement which boded him up.

The Rev Mr Barnes has been acquitted by the General Assembly of the Presbyterian Church, held at Pittsburgh, (Pa.) on the charge of heresy preferred against him by the Synod of Philadelphia. After a long and violent discussion, the vote was taken, and stood—in favor of Mr Barnes, 134; against him, 94. Majority, 40.

Booth was a little queer, in Sir Edward Mortimer, on Monday night, at Philadelphia, and rendered some of the scenes very comic; but on Tuesday, the papers say, he played Hamlet in a masterly style, fully redeeming himself in the estimation of the audience, and proving that no man but himself could trill with an audience, and yet on the following night by the magical power of genius, induce that audience not only to forget but cordially forgive.

The Galaxy says Finn is engaged in this city for the next season. We hope to see his comic phiz the present season—Beau Shatterly's "young friends" will be glad to see him.

Yankee Hill appears at the Tremont to-night—he has got a new jackknife, and will whittle with any man, big or little, for the crown of Monks.

Mr Bristow, the distinguished and successful writing master, has re-opened his academy in Boston, where those desirous may receive instruction in the "art preservative of all arts," from as accomplished a teacher as can be found in the country.

At least four thousand ornamental trees have been transplanted in Bangor the present season—and a road has been laid out to "Lover's Leap" for the especial accommodation, we suppose, of desperate swains and their dying spinsters.

The wind was East again on Friday and Saturday, but we don't mind it now—we've had our overshoes half-soaled, and our great-coat mended.

Three thousand dollars have been subscribed by the citizens of Mobile for the purpose of giving the Alabama volunteers a public dinner.

The Journeyman Tailors, were sentenced in New York on Saturday—one to fine of $150—two $100 each—and the balance $50 dollars each.

The U. S. ship Vincennes arrived in Hampton Roads on Sunday night, 5th inst., in 40 days from St. Helena—all well.

Engine Company No. Five parade to-day, for the purpose of putting cold lead through Santa Anna.

The Mobile Advertiser of a late date, says that the McGreys, accused of a deliberate and cold-blooded murder, are at home in Sumner county, and that they constantly make their appearance in public, armed with dirks, knives and pistols, bidding defiance to every one.

FROM THE SOUTH.

The Washington Globe of Thursday contains a letter from Capt. Duncan, dated at Fort Leavenworth the 16th of May, which states that—

"War has already broken out on the southwestern frontier, and that one of eight persons who had started from the trading establishment of Messrs Bent & St. Vrain, had arrived at Fort Leavenworth, who stated that 28 days previous, the party to which he belonged were attacked near the Santa Fe trail on the Arkansas river, about 50 miles below Cheyenne Gland, by a war party of Indians, who killed three of their number. He thinks the Indians were of the Kioway tribe. He also states that a war party of Chians and Arapahoes combined, had arrived at Fort William with 22 scalps which they had taken from the Arrikaros, near the south fork of the river. The letter further states that information was received from the Rev Mr Berry, that a war dance had taken place at the Upper Keeepo Village, about 5 miles from Fort Leavenworth, at which there was great rejoicing at the success of the Seminoles in Florida, and that the Chiefs and Braves had boldly declared that the time was near at hand when the whites would be entirely subdued, and the red men again restored to their country."

A letter from Capt. Page to Gen. Jessup, dated at Fort Mitchell, May 28, says that in consequence of the defeat of the Seminole campaign, the Creeks commenced the war with a great deal of confidence—that a majority of the nation are opposed to the war, which has greatly disengaged the hostile party.

There has been a party endeavoring to make their way to Florida, but it only consisted of about two hundred and fifty persons. This party is headed by Jim Henry. They have been plundering all around us. They have got a great many stage horses and negroes that they captured; and he has got frightened and wants to be off with this property by crossing the Chattahoochee river on his way to Florida."

Captain Page then goes on to state the measures suggested by him to prevent this proceeding, which, however, were not pursued, and adds, "But fortunately we have had one continued rain for five or six days, and it has raised the river so high they cannot cross. The Governor of Georgia is expected in a couple of days. I will go in person and get him to send his forces down the river to prevent them from crossing."

A gentleman from Savannah informs the editor of the New York Commercial that preceding Gen. Scott's arrival at Augusta, a large collection of persons had assembled for the purpose of doing him personal violence; that it was with difficulty the mobocracy were induced by the reflecting part of that community to retire. An express was sent down the river to meet the steamboat in which Gen. S. had taken passage, to apprise him of the peril in which he stood, and the boat was in consequence detained till midnight. The impression had gone abroad that Gen. Scott had travelled out of his way in his official letters to the war department, to abuse the volunteers who had served during the campaign. An explanatory letter was written by him, which was read in public, and thus the affair ended. The General was burned in effigy at Tallahassee.

At Mobile on the 22d ult., a requisition being made for two companies to march against the Indians, all volunteered, and it was found necessary to draft men to stay at home. We have seen a letter from Fort Mitchell, dated the 29th ult., which states that the Creek Chief Upthoole-Yoholo, has taken a very decided stand against the war, and has been able to keep his warriors in subjection, though not without being obliged to kill one chief and to chain thirteen others. This prompt action on his part, put an immediate check upon his people, who would otherwise have fallen in with the views of the lower Creeks, and decided them to commit acts of devastation.—Jour. Com.

Mr. Jaudon.—We learn that Mr. Jaudon, Cashier of the Bank of the United States, has made a negotiation for a million and a half sterling, in London, or over seven millions of dollars; and at the last dates, had gone to Holland, according to his original design, in order to make further negotiations.—Jour. Com.

On Friday morning, as the U. S. Frigate United States was dropping down, when abreast of Castle William, the mizen top gallant mast broke off short in the wake of the cap, 3 men fell from aloft, 2 were killed instantaneously, I had both legs broken and otherwise injured.—N. Y. Times.

We understand that a sail boat, containing five boys, was upset between 3 and four o'clock, on Friday afternoon, between the Lowell Railroad and Warren Bridge, and three out of five drowned. We did not learn their names.—Briggs.

We are happy to learn that the family of the Rev John Pierpont have received letters from him within a few days, in which he states that he has wholly recovered his health and expects to return in August. He was in Smyrna.—Galaxy.

High Notes.—The Girard Bank of Philadelphia has issued notes of five and ten thousand dollars—said to be splendidly executed.

The Constitution frigate was off the Rock of Gibraltar on the 1st of May.

[From the Journal of Commerce.]

HONDURAS. 10th May, 1836.—Mahogany is scarce just now and will continue so till August. A law has also just been passed to prohibit the exportation of any kind of wood from hence to the United States. Formerly no wood under 21 inches square could be shipped to Great Britain, and consequently all under that size found its way to your country. Now all sizes are admissible in England, and a great portion of the small wood will go there. This will tend to raise the price of that description of wood here, and in fact it has already risen $15 per M.

We have since understood that Lavigne had an accomplice, and that both have been lodged in jail.—Balt. Transcript.

Serious Accident.—We understand that a man by the name of Caldwell, of Charlestown, a brickmaker, was instantly killed yesterday (Saturday) afternoon, on the Lowell Railroad track, in East Cambridge. It seems that he was walking on one of the tracks, and as the dirt cars were coming along behind him, he stepped aside to let them pass, but unfortunately for him, the passenger cars from Lowell came along at the same moment, striking him on the back of the head, and killing him instantly. The noise of the former, probably, prevented his hearing the latter.—Galaxy.

A well dressed stranger, apparently an Italian, went to Mrs Lang's tavern, Georgetown, (D. C.) on Saturday, 4th inst. and was shown to a room, and asked for pen and ink. The following morning one of the servants heard a groaning, but did not inquire into the cause.

On Monday, about 11 o'clock, the stranger was found dead in his bed. A vessel beside the bed smelt strongly of opium, and beyond this there was not the slightest clue to discover the time or manner of his death. No papers of any kind, but about forty cents in money, were upon his person.

Sad Accident.—As Murphy Smith, and another Irishman whose name we have not learned, were digging, on Friday afternoon, under a bank on one of the new building lots on Tremont street, a large body of earth fell in, a portion of which struck Smith upon the leg, and broke it short off. The other man who was in a stooping posture at the time, had his back broken, and was thrown with great force against a cart, by which he was dreadfully bruised. He was carried to the house of a physician, and Smith was taken to the Hospital.

Mail Robbery.—Burke, a stage driver on the route between Petersburg, Va. and Richmond, has been arrested, under a charge of robbing the mail of a letter containing $1,000 cash and a draft for $4,000, which was forwarded by Messrs E. James & Co. of Petersburg to a house in Richmond. The money was found on another driver by the name of Hoffman, who was also arrested.

Shocking.—The dwelling house of Mr Daniel Goddard, of Mansville, Jefferson county, (N. Y.) was totally destroyed by fire on the night of the 21st ult., and five of his children perished in the flames. Another child was badly burnt, but is expected to recover. The ages of those who perished ranged from two weeks to twelve years.
